Salutatory To Class of February, 1934

*"Thou must be true thyself,
If thou the truth would'st teach;
Thy soul must overflow,
If thou another soul would'st reach;
It needs the overflowing heart,
To give the life full speech.
Think truly and thy thoughts
Shall the world's famine feed;
Speak truly and thy word
Shall be a fruitful seed;
Live truly and thy life shall be
A great and noble creed."*

—RALPH WALDO EMERSON.

The most encouraging truth that can be impressed on the mind of us, the youth of today, is this: "What man has done man may do." Men of great achievements we must not reverence as exceptions to the average of humanity, but consider them as setting a standard of success for us. Their example shows what can be accomplished by the practice of the common virtues—diligence, patience, determination, perseverance, and earnestness. These men and women have shaped their future by making the most of small opportunities. Never before was the opportunity of the educated girl and boy so great as today. There is always a place for those who can do things well. The education that elevates, refines and ennobles its recipient knows no bounds.

Because we have just finished our compulsory education, we must not halt our learning. We must educate ourselves more fully to meet the problems of the changing but practical world. We must not let our ideals grow dim nor our high standards drop. The atmosphere of learning and beautiful promise that we are leaving for a practical materiality will be a test to our character. We, the educated children of today, are expected to look up, not down, to aspire, not grovel. Petty annoyances and bickerings should not influence us. We ought to be able to rise above these things and use all our brain power and energy for worthwhile work.

During this present time of economic depression, we realize we shall have to fight to make our lives more successful. We can not remodel the world, but we can face it with hope, courage, and training. Our enthusiasm shall not be thwarted because of such discouraging times, nor shall we be misled by despondency, suspicions, and criticisms which are now so prevalent. We enter the game at a critical time, yet we shall look on these difficulties as a challenge and discipline ourselves to meet them.

Success does not only mean doing something marvelous and outstanding. Success comes by living honestly and earnestly, by always ringing true in our friendships at school which we will always remember, by holding a helpful attitude to those about us, by being a good citizen. We must not miss the little successes in striving for a great and wonderful goal, a goal achieved through solid and stable ideals. Our aim is for security, time to enjoy our friends, and time for gaining wisdom to make happy, wholesome homes.

The old assumption of youth was to work and get rich. Money seemed an ideal. A high standard of living meant to get as much as the next fellow. We, the youth of today, are straying away from that idea, and demand a sounder philosophy, a philosophy of living, not having; of happiness, not wealth.

GLADYS CLARKE, Salutatorian.

Valedictory of Class of February, 1934

*"Build thee more stately mansions, O my soul,
As the swift seasons roll!"*

—OLIVER WENDELL HOLMES.

We, as a class have been striving during the past four years to build our mansions more nearly perfect. This occasion is a mark of our progress. We have studied long and faithfully, each trying to do his best and improving upon it as he acquired more knowledge. As we have traveled together during these four years, our immediate goal was graduation. We have reached that goal, but it is not the end. We must now go on individually building our lives without the guidance of our parents and teachers. While in high school, we have formed a foundation and a framework upon which to build in the future. We have been preparing to take up our life work and to shoulder our own responsibilities. We have acquired more than just the fundamentals of learning; through contacts with our fellow students and teachers, we have added to our lives a social and moral development. Our school days have been happy ones for us, and we hope our relations with each other will not be entirely severed.

We do not know what the future holds for us, but we do feel that during this time of readjustment and change we must not cease in our efforts to do better. The world can use the best that we can give. It may be through our endeavors that some of the economic problems of the present may be solved and the structure of our government made more durable. Even though we may not be able to go on to any higher school of learning, we must not let our minds become less alert or our ideals less noble. When we find our niche in the structure of life, may we fill it competently and well.

We offer our gratitude to our faculty for their kindness and helpfulness to us. We are glad that in this time of financial and industrial depression we are able to be graduated, and we extend our sincere thanks to the people of this city and to the Board of Education for their careful planning to keep our schools open. To our parents, we give our thanks for all their sacrifices and helpfulness. Let us say farewell, classmates, and go forth to erect more stately mansions. As we do, so let us bear in mind our motto, "We constantly strive to make our best better."

FRANCES STAHLBUCK, Valedictorian.

Salutatory to the Class of June, 1934

Fellow Classmates:

As we are about to embark upon a long hard voyage through this world, it is fitting to review the past and to relive our glorious experiences in Senior High School. Standing on the threshold of the future, we look back with no little regret upon the eventful life which we have led during our three years of high school work. While it is impossible to recall all of our joys and sorrows, many of our reminiscences stand out from the others like beacons of knowledge.

Before all, we wish to extend our heartiest thanks to the teachers who have helped and encouraged us in all our enterprises. No faculty could have done more to aid us in obtaining a proper start in life. Without their untiring efforts we undoubtedly would not have achieved our present goal. May graduation not dim our eyes to the infinite gratitude we owe them. Let us hope that the classes that follow in our footsteps will benefit as much as we from the whole-hearted cooperation of the faculty.

In leaving the scene of our youth to enter a longer and harder life, our happy days together will not be forgotten. Our pleasant companionship with each other has been an inspiration many times when the horizon looked cloudy and hopeless. When a gloomy moment is upon us, there is nothing that is comparable to a friend, a real companion in need. Many an obstacle has been overcome by the combination of friendship and initiative, and so we must carry our spirit of cooperation and ambition into our future work to succeed in this rapidly changing world and nation.

We must not lose heart when we think of the deplorable condition in which the outside world lies. While the opportunities offered the high school graduate of today are not great, nevertheless there still are opportunities. For the hard working, ambitious young man or woman, the world always has a place. We are a part of that great mass of high school graduates who will enter the affairs of the country and who will determine its destiny in the next fifty years. For that reason the horizon faintly begins to show signs of newer and brighter rays of hope. We can make those dark clouds of depression entirely disappear, and so with that thought let us go forth to do that which must be done to make the world a happier and greater place to live in.

EARL AILIO and WILLIAM MANN, Salutatorians.

Valedictory of the Class of June, 1934

For the past twelve years we have been striving, both individually and collectively, for one and only one goal—our graduation. Now that we have arrived at that goal, we hesitate, wondering if it is really worth all the efforts that we have put forth. As we begin to realize that we must part with most of the friends of our youth and that we must forge ahead by ourselves, we are stunned and bewildered to no little degree. Within us we hear two voices—one urging us ever on, the other begging us to rest awhile before proceeding. These voices are the keys to our future. We may listen to either one of them, but only to one.

It is being said on all sides that we are to be pitied, since we are being graduated in these times of financial and mental distress. Contrary to this expressed opinion, we should be congratulated. We have the chance to go forth and to do what those who are pitying us have failed to do. It is we who will perfect the machinery of our government, who will reshape our industrial system, and who will lead the world back to a more nearly normal and permanent prosperity.

We must develop men who will open new fields and paths for us. We will never have many of the opportunities such as these which were seized by Daniel Boone, John Rockefeller, and Henry Ford; nevertheless, at the present time of reconstruction, we have innumerable opportunities which have never been offered to any one before us. Some of us have completed our education; some of us will go on to various colleges and universities to specialize in certain fields. Regardless of our opportunities and our degree of education, however, there is a niche in the world set up for each one of us.

We have been prepared; now we must seek our places. Let us go forth to conquer, remembering that no matter how humble our work is, it is still something we may exalt; and that no matter how impassive, it is still something into which we may breathe a soul.

President's Message

In the few remaining months of our high school years, let us assume the responsibilities which fall upon our shoulders with the proper attitude. With the whole-hearted cooperation of the 12A's to be, we can attain that which has always seemed synonymous with the term senior—"dignity" and respect of the under graduates.

When we reach this stage, the game is practically won. So let us make "cooperation" our motto, and success our aim, for the coming semester.

CUDHAY PATTERSON, President.

President's Message

Senior—the thought awes us. As a word it but signifies that we have reached the fourth year of high school. In spirit the meaning goes deeper. To be a Senior is, in a sense, the realization of an ambition—the attainment of a goal, but it is only a step in the progress toward success. We realize that the Senior is expected to carry on l'esprit de corps. He assumes the leadership of the school. Juniors and Sophomores unconsciously pattern their conduct after his. Throughout our high school attendance we have striven to be a credit to our school and to ourselves. As Juniors we have welded our class into a unit of smoothly-working parts to the best of our ability. We have prepared ourselves so that in our turn we might become efficient Seniors. So, hoping to fail as few times in the future as in the past, we turn our thoughts toward our higher goal.

DALTON ORR, President.

President's Message

Reviewing events of the past year, the most outstanding is the untiring efforts of the Senior Class to uphold the honor and traditions of our school, and we congratulate them on their achievements.

With a curtailed program, due to the depression, faculty and pupils have made an extra effort to carry on.

We, the class of 1936, find ourselves on the threshold of a new day, and it will be our aim to grasp the opportunities afforded us for the betterment of our school.

I wish to thank the officers and members of our class for their loyalty and cooperation in making this year one that will be remembered in the years to come.

GEORGE SHARRARD, President.

Constantly correcting our mistakes and earnestly trying to prevent their recurrence, we shall now begin life as Juniors. If we maintain the fine Class and School Spirit shown so far, this group surely will become one of the best Graduating Classes ever.

Our excellent example of cooperation and efficiency undoubtedly will put new spirit into the activities of the other classes, both preceding and following.

President's Message

We have the following years ahead of us to enjoy and appreciate, so we feel that in this way we are the most fortunate group in our school. I sincerely hope that the spirit of goodwill and friendship which greeted us on our admittance to high school may be cherished and passed on by us to those who come after. I know that every member of our class will do his utmost to not only preserve and honor the ideals of school life which the past has built, but also to treat new standards which will be a credit to Port Huron High School.

MARY LOUISE ABERNETHY, President.

We, the editors, wish to express our appreciation of the whole-hearted co-operation of the entire staff in putting out our annual. Also, we wish to extend our thanks to Miss MacLaren, without whose help this annual would not have been possible.

THE STUDENT COUNCIL

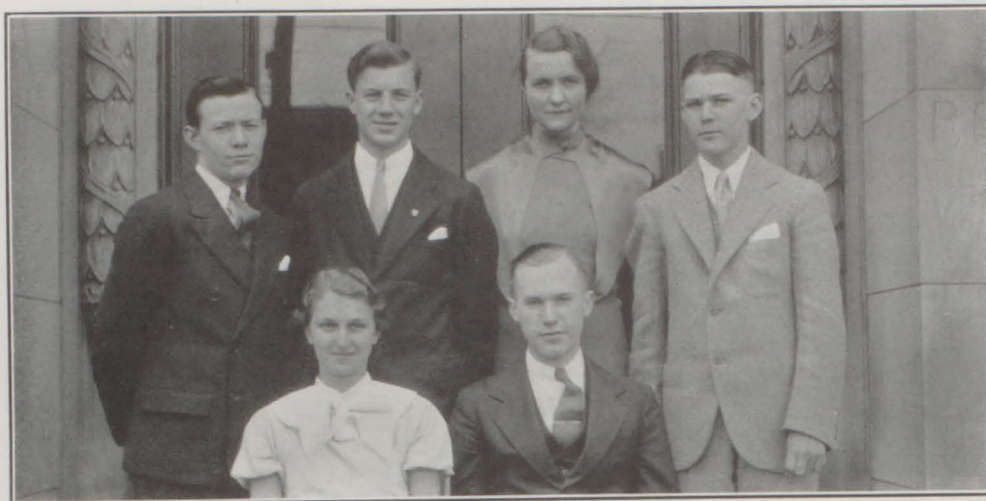

The Student Council is composed of eighteen members, three being elected from each class. One of the first duties of this body is to take care of all elections, which includes soliciting petitions, collecting them, making ballots, and in general taking care of the whole election.

This year the Council has held pep meetings before all games. Before the Mt. Clemens' football game the Student Council staged a snake-dance by a bonfire. This was the most successful snake-dance ever held in Port Huron. It has annually held the football banquet for the members of the school football team.

This year it has started "Clean Up Week," an entirely new idea, which it hopes not only to be an annual affair, but also to continue through the year. Posters were put up in all of the halls, and speeches were made to the students by members of the Council.

Next year it hopes to build a new trophy case in the main hall, in front of the office and at present is taking charge of the old one.

DRAMATICS CLUB

Miss Isabel Ballentine led the Dramatic Club through a very successful year with a membership of about sixty. William Mann was re-elected president for the third consecutive time. Earl Ailio was elected vice-president, and Mary Paige, secretary. Helen Klumpp succeeded Mary Paige as secretary in February. Many highly entertaining skits were presented at the weekly meetings during the year. Two plays were presented at the all school carnival.

Lorraine Elliott, Margaret Carrigan, and Jean Mackay took part in Augustus In Search of a Father, which was directed by Margaret Limberg.

Wesley Kemp directed The Rehearsal, in which Robert Ballentine, Gordon Glover, Earl Ailio, Alex MacCreadie, Ralph Stevenson, Robert Coulter, George Sharrard, Melvin MacDonald, and Alex Lewis participated.

HONOR SOCIETY

Port Huron High School has been a charter member of the National Honor Society of Secondary Schools since December 7, 1922.

Members of this society are chosen biannually by the faculty for excellence of character, scholarship, leadership, and service. Not more than 15% of a class may be elected at one time, and their rank in scholarship must be in the upper fourth of the class.

The election of members was held on January 16, 1934, and the candidates chosen were initiated into the society in a candlelight ceremony the following week.

The members of the graduating class of June, 1934, who were elected in January are as follows:

Earl Ailio	Arthur Howe
Clarence Brandenburg	Margaret Limberg
Alice Caton	Bill Mann
Roy Dubisch	Melvin MacDonald
Mona Fraser-Lee	Doris Warren
Gordon Glover	Dorothy Weichsler

The names of the January graduating class who were chosen at the last election are as follows:

Jacqueline Chaffee	Lois Firestone
Charles Feirn	Kenneth Stevens

From the class of January, 1935, the following members were elected:

Evelyn Hoskins	Ada Atkins
Anita Martin	Norma Lombard

THE CHOIR

The vested choir, which has a membership of seventy-five, is an a cappella choir. Miss Hyde is the director, and Gladys Clarke is the accompanist.

The choir's first appearance of the season was in the operetta, Trial by Jury, which was presented at the Garfield School on November tenth. The important roles were sung by Beatrice Foster, Emil Steinhaus, Bertram North, Gordon Glover, and Paul Wilke. Other members of the choir composed the jury and the chorus of spectators. Later in November the operetta was repeated at the Washington school.

The choir sang for the Rotary Club at the Harrington Hotel in December, while in January it furnished the music for Baccalaureate and Commencement.

In March the choir took part in the second annual Bach Festival in Ypsilanti under the direction of Mr. Frederick Alexander. Six other high school groups participated in this festival making a choir of 356 voices. The Festival was repeated in May at the Detroit Institute of Arts.

The choir gave a concert on the second of May in which they sang all the numbers they had learned during the past three years. This was the first concert to be given by the choir alone. They will also furnish the music for Baccalaureate in June.

At the annual choir banquet the last of May, pins were presented to the thirty-nine out-going seniors.

MODERN LITERATURE CLUB

Reorganizing in the first semester with Miss Seibert as advisor, the Modern Literature Club elected the following officers: Doris Warren, president; Arthur Howe, vice-president; Mary Paige, secretary. The club met every other Monday to discuss the more important authors and their works. Each meeting was spent in studying a major type of literature with those most interested in that type of the program. During the first semester an award was given to Alice Caton for the best notebook on modern literature.

On April 30th, when the club was specializing on novels, two were reviewed by Miss Ballentine and Yvonne Clayton. The last meeting of the semester was a miscellaneous one with every member taking part.

For the second semester the officers were the following: President, Alice Caton; vice-president, Arthur Howe; and secretary, Jane Nash.

SPANISH CLUB

On March 15 the Spanish Club met for its first meeting and elected the following officers: President, Don Carson; Vice-President, Geraldine Whybrew; Secretary, Geraldine Whybrew; Treasurer, Virginia Vanderlip. A committee was in charge of the program for the meetings, which were held at 3:30 on Thursdays in Miss McCormick's room. Articles were read in Spanish from Spanish newspapers, talks were given by various members of the club, and cross-word puzzles were worked in Spanish.

The club planned to have a dinner-dance at the last of the semester. Dues were collected each week for this purpose.

FRENCH CLUB

The French Club was organized December 13th under Miss Everham's and Miss McCormick's sponsorship. The officers elected were: Jean Cleland, president; Jacquelyn Chafee, vice-president; Jeanne Hanton, secretary; and Fred Hamel, treasurer. The most important work done by the club was the preparation of the Streets of Paris for the school carnival.

In the second semester the French Club was superseded by a different group, which met on Thursdays after school in Miss Everham's room to acquire more knowledge of French. Only students who had finished French 4 or who were then studying it joined the group. Several stories of Guy de Maupassant, the French master of short-stories, were read in French. The members talked in French with Miss Everham leading the conversation. Miss Everham also gave several enjoyable talks on French life. There were no officers elected.

LIBRARY CLUB

The purpose of the Library Club is to acquaint the members with the operation of the school library. At each meeting Miss Hilton gave a short instructive talk on different phases of library work. Informal discussions of books which the members had read and liked were also a part of the program. Every other week two members of the club were responsible for the library bulletin board. It was their duty to choose a poster on some subject of general interest and to choose some books relating to that subject.

The officers chosen at the reorganization meeting for the first semester were: Ralph Conselyea, president; Jane Nash, vice-president; Alvena Cochran, secretary. The following were elected for the second semester: Alice Caton, president; Mona Fraser-Lee, vice-president; and Betty Stevens, secretary.

CHESSE CLUB

Sixteen students interested in learning how to play chess organized the Chess Club in the first semester with Miss McCollom as advisor and the following officers: President, Roy Dubisch; Arthur Howe, secretary. Meetings were held every Tuesday and Thursday at three-thirty in the library. Until December both of these meetings were devoted to learning how to play the game. Before Christmas vacation and continuing on into the second semester, only one meeting was spent in learning the fundamentals and in practice games. The club sponsored a tournament for the meetings on the other days, the object being to have each member play a game with every other member of the club. When all these games were completed, the winner of the greatest number of games was declared winner of the tournament.

Roy Dubisch and Arthur Howe were president and secretary respectively for the second semester also.

P. H. H. S. CARNIVAL

One of the big attractions of the school year was the all-school carnival given December eighth and ninth. Each class and every organization of the school had a concession in the event. One of the big attractions was the puppet show, The Three Wishes, given by Olin and Marjorie Murdick in behalf of the Chess Club. The boxing and wrestling matches put on by the P. H. Club were also a great treat to the athletic world. A raid in the Streets of Paris created great excitement while it lasted but—it was only a joke. Among the other shows was the Japanese Tea Garden, where the girls served tea and read the leaves. They looked very sweet in their Japanese robes. Some of the other concessions were the fish pond, the court with electric chair, parcel post, Dramatics Club plays, stage show by the Choir, ring throwing contest, roulette wheel, moving pictures, around the world in two minutes, sewing booth, portrait booth, fortune telling, and sail boat racing. All in all it was a great carnival!

VOCAL I

The Vocal I class of eighty-eight members is used as a preparatory group from which the choir draws new members as is necessary. Hilda Zieg is accompanist.

GIRLS' ENSEMBLE

The Ensemble is composed of ten girls—first sopranos: Edyth Meinhardt, Mildred Harmon, and Genevieve Fenn; second sopranos: Margaret Hyde, Joyce Taylor, and Marion Wisdom; altos: Beatrice Foster, Lorraine Elliott, and Anette Stratton.

SENIOR GIRLS' TRIO

The Senior Girls' Trio is composed of Edythe Meinhardt, Margaret Hyde, and Beatrice Foster.

CHORUS

The Chorus, which is open to all who like to sing, and which has a membership of about three hundred, meets every Wednesday noon. It presents two concerts each year. The Christmas concert, given free to the community to take the place of the carols, was presented on Sunday, December 17, 1933. The Spring concert was presented on Wednesday, May 4.

The Chorus is directed by Miss Hyde. Gladys Clarke and Hilda Zieg are accompanists.

BAND

A group of twenty-eight boys under the able direction of Mr. Elmer H. Hess composes the Port Huron High School Band.

During the football games the players added the musical complex to the contests. They also traveled to Royal Oak for the Port Huron-Fordson basketball game and paraded several times for civic affairs. The band gave an outdoor concert in May and also took part in the annual band get-together at Capac. Bands from the entire county took part.

JUNE CLASS SENIOR PLAY

The June Graduating Class of 1934 presented its Senior Play, Take My Advice, a comedy in three acts, by Elliott Lester, Friday, April 20, in the Garfield School Auditorium. Miss Katherine Fitzpatrick directed the production

Bud Weaver, seventeen, wants to leave school to marry Marella Scott, a twenty-five year old vamp; Van Kind is trying to enroll Ann Weaver in a fake dramatic school; Jimmie Thayer tries to sell fraudulent stock to the family. Into this array of difficulties comes Professor Clement, Bud's teacher, to solve the problems with modern psychology.

Members of the cast follow:

*Substituting for Ethel Hull.

JUNIOR PLAY OF THE 11A CLASS

Patty Makes Things Hum, by Carolyn D. Gilpatric, a comedy in three acts, was presented May 25, in the Garfield School by the 11A Class.

Mrs. Green ordains a dinner party; several complications present themselves, the chief of which is the arrival of her sixteen year old sister, Patty, who has been expelled from school. Being greatly undesired, she is sent to bed, but she later turns up in the character of the maid, flirts with the guest of honor, and ends by getting engaged to him.

The cast was as follows:

Patty	-	-	-	-	-	Charlotte White
Doris Green	-	-	-	-	-	Helen Slutsky
Captain Fred Little	-	-	-	-	-	Walter Turton
Mr. Green	-	-	-	-	-	Lloyd Hawkins

The play was under the direction of Miss Catherine Meehan.

JANUARY CLASS SENIOR PLAY

The January Class of 1934 presented its Senior Play Monday evening, December 18, 1933, in the Majestic Theatre. The play, The Whole Town's Talking, by Anita Loos and John Everson, was a farce in three acts.

Ethel Simmon's father wants her to marry his partner, Chester Birney, but she is much smitten by the polished ways of Roger Shields whom she has brought home from college as her house guest. Of course, complications follow.

The members of the cast were as follows:

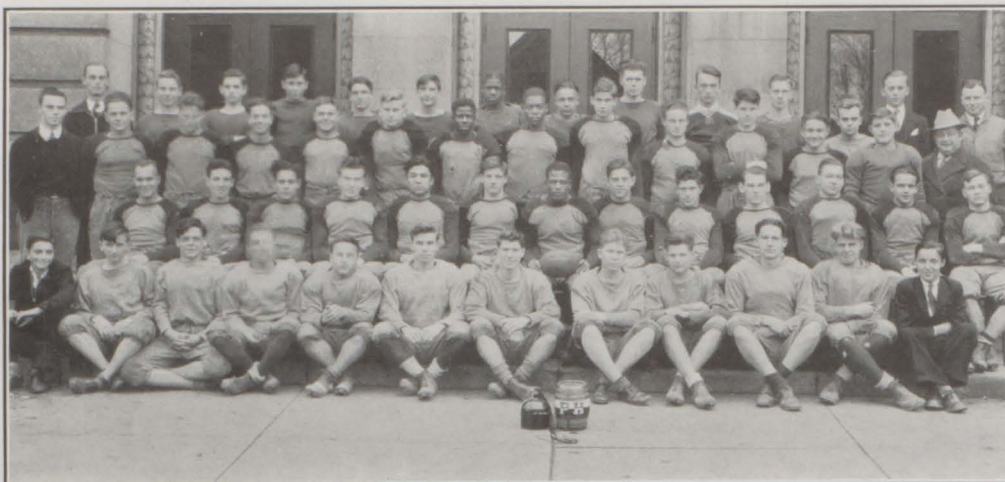

Henry Simmons	-	-	-	-	Martin Wedge
Harriett Simmons	-	-	-	-	Genevieve Gillow
Ethel Simmons	-	-	-	-	Elizabeth Rauser
Chester Birney	-	-	-	-	Edwin Norman

Annie	-	-	-	-	Gladys Clarke
Sadie Bloom	-	-	-	-	Marjorie Heeke
Taxi Driver	-	-	-	-	Sanford Young

Miss Etta Reid, class advisor, directed the play.

GIRLS' LEAGUE TEA

The Girls' League has been reorganized again under the directorship of the class advisors. One of the first things done was the sponsorship of a tea. This was well attended and thus showed the proper spirit of the girls in school. The tea was held soon after the reorganization, November 24, from 4 o'clock to 5 o'clock.

 ATHLETICS

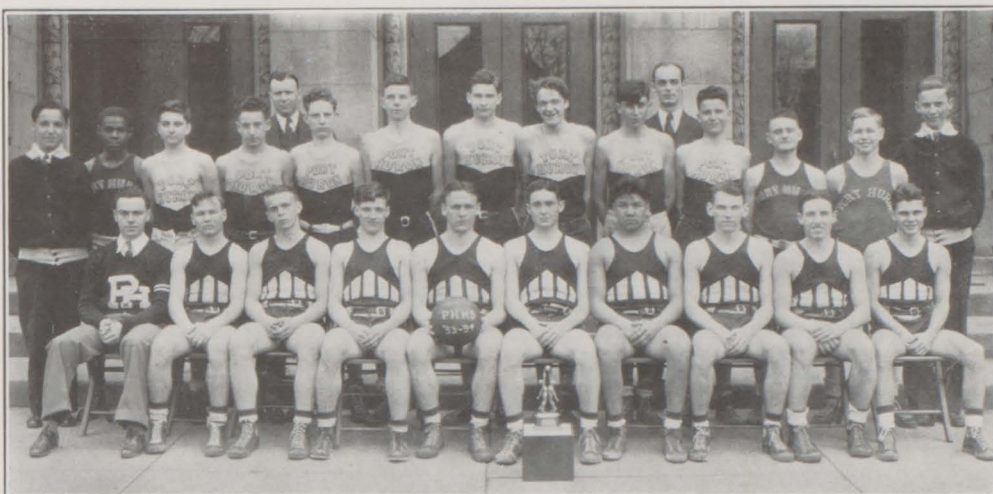

FOOTBALL

With a strong squad that outplayed all its opponents the Red-White football team finished the 1934 season with a record of six victories, one tie with Flint Central, and a loss to Saginaw Arthur Hill. Algonac and Ferndale were subdued easily and Pontiac was beaten in a mud battle 13-7 when Hazely scored twice. Following this hard game, Flint Central was tied 13-13 when again Hazely scored twice, one of his touchdowns being a brilliant run through the entire Flint team to the goal sixty yards away. Mt. Clemens was vanquished 7-0 by a first quarter pass, Patterson to Buntrock. This marked the first time that both the Brown Jug and Brown Keg, symbolic of victories over Pontiac and Mt. Clemens, were in Port Huron at the same time. Royal Oak lost 26-0, but Fordson was beaten only because Hazely scored twice after long runs. He ran sixty yards in the first half and in the second half after Jones had carried the ball to the goal, he again scored to win the game. Saginaw Arthur Hill spoiled our undefeated record 6-0 when they blocked a last minute punt.

At the annual football banquet Louis Murray was elected captain to succeed Bob Isabell and Booker Hazely, the brilliant all-state halfback who scored over sixty points during the schedule of eight games.

BASKETBALL

Starting the season with Captain McCullough, the lone regular remaining from last year's team, at center and last year's reserves at the other positions, Port Huron's Red-White quintet played winning basketball for four games. Then for some unknown reason, the team suddenly changed to a spiritless organization that quickly ran up a losing record. A game with Sarnia intended to shake up the team for the second semester and to instill some winning spirit failed to accomplish much if anything at all. The game in Flint against the School for the Deaf brought the team back to its old fighting form and not too soon, for the regional tournament occurred a month later. The new team of Dicer and Crawford, forwards; McCullough, center; Ballentine and Patterson, guards, entered the Pontiac regional on an even basis with Mt. Clemens, Royal Oak, and Pontiac. Port Huron left Pontiac with the cup indicating the championship of the district and a record of being one of the eight best teams in the finals. Of our season's opponents only Fordson, which eliminated us in the quarter finals, advanced farther than the Red-Whites into the state championship tilts.

Dave McCullough, the Port Huron center, led the entire team in scoring with 101 points, almost forty more than any other player's total. Crawford was second with 66 points while Dicer who played only part of the season scored 45 points.

Season's Record

Regular Season

Port Huron 19, Michigan School for Deaf 16.
Port Huron 19, Kalamazoo St. Augustine 18.
Port Huron 22, Ferndale Lincoln 19.
Port Huron 29, Monroe 7.
Port Huron 16, Mt. Clemens 19.
Port Huron 16, Saginaw Eastern 20.
Port Huron 13, Fordson 15.
Port Huron 15, Flint Northern 23.
Port Huron 23, Sarnia 10.
Port Huron 8, St. Mary's (Orchard Lake) 20.
Port Huron 17, Mt. Clemens 24.
Port Huron 24, Michigan School for Deaf 18.
Port Huron 30, Saginaw Arthur Hill 38.
Port Huron 33, Royal Oak 12.

Regional Tournament

Port Huron 28, Mt. Clemens 20.
Port Huron 21, Royal Oak 17.

State Quarter Finals

Port Huron 19, Fordson 21.

Coach Brick Fowler of the Port Huron basketball teams of the past seven years has placed the Red-Whites in the regional finals five times. This record can be claimed by very few coaches in the state. The first game of the current season was Brick's one-hundredth victory in his career at Port Huron. His percentage, incidentally, is over the .700 mark which should make a number of the court fans wake up and take notice of Senior High's cagers.

INTRA-MURAL BASKETBALL

The classes of Port Huron High School offer the less experienced players of their groups a chance to play basketball each Tuesday and Thursday at the Roosevelt Gym. The teams, representing their classes, vie for honors in a round robin tournament. In the first semester the 12A's won the first place honors, while in the second semester a tie resulted for the position between the 12A's and the 11B's.

BASEBALL

The Red-White baseball team showed prospects for a good season in its first few games. The battery consists of Cowles and Heering, pitchers, Booker Hazely having become ineligible for competition owing to the age limit, and Forbes George, catcher. The infield of O'Neil, a veteran, at first, Frank Sari at third and Wurzel and Crawford at short and second, respectively, promises to be a good working combination. Mann, Mills, Adams, and Brandenburg comprise the outfield.

Cowles subdued Capac in the opener with some fine pitching. Sandusky knocked Heering out in the first inning and Port Huron came out on the short end of a 4-6 score. Pontiac was beaten by a six-run rally in the fifth inning while Hazely kept Pontiac from the plate after the fourth inning. The chances for another good season are better than ordinary.

The remaining games on the schedule follow:

April 30—Romeo	-	-	-	-	-	Here
May 4—Capac	-	-	-	-	-	There
May 12—Pontiac	-	-	-	-	-	Here
May 18—Sandusky	-	-	-	-	-	Here
May 26—Flint Central	-	-	-	-	-	Here
June 1—Romeo	-	-	-	-	-	There

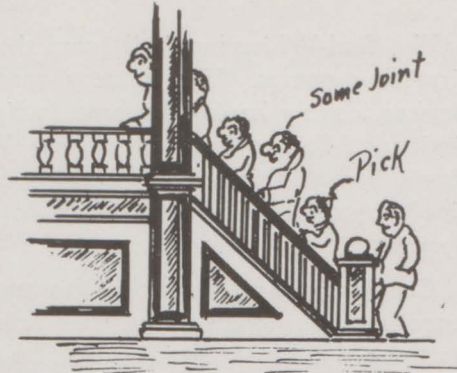

INTER CLASS BASEBALL

Each spring, softball is played between the classes for the honor of first place in a season's schedule of games. The teams are organized by the group managers, under Mr. Paulson, and games are played every Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday on the Vocational softball diamond. The fun obtained for the boys in their games amply repays whatever cost is incurred by purchase of equipment.
